REPUBLICAN STATE CONVENTION

Republican District Convention.

Republican Caucus.

THE STATE CONVENTION NEXT THURSDAY.

We desire to impress upon the citizens of our section the great and special importance of the Republican State Convention, to be held in Portland next Tuesday. The attempted organization of a movement for the inflation of the National currency, breaking down the National credit, making a crusade against all rights of property, and inflaming the communistic spirit that has already manifested itself in riot, destruction and bloodshed, is enough of itself to arouse the Republicans of Maine to the most vigorous efforts in the ensuing campaign; and the encouragement given to this movement by the Democratic party, emphasizes the demand for prompt and decided action by all who would maintain sound financial principles and uphold the law and order upon which the welfare of society depends.

The Republican State Convention is to sound the key note of the campaign of honest, intelligent citizens against the heresies which threaten to sweep away all the safe-guards of legitimate business and to inaugurate a mad orgie of inflation and speculation that can lead only to chaos and bankruptcy throughout the land.

The evil is one that menaces every man, woman and child in the country; every home is endangered by the assault upon the rights of property.

COLBY UNIVERSITY.

Commencement Week—Increase of Endowments—Library Additions, Etc.

WATERVILLE, Me., July 22. The Trustees of Colby University met this forenoon at nine o'clock and passed most of the forenoon receiving reports from the various officers. It appears that the receipts for the academy endowment fund now amount to over twenty-nine thousand dollars, not counting five thousand paid in and designated by Dr. Ricker and partial collections by Rev. A. R. Crane. There have been eight hundred volumes added to the library during the past year, making 14,000 in all and a number of gentlemen have signified the intention of leaving private libraries to the College. There has been an increase in the number of books taken out by students by over a thousand, and these have been largely historical works. The full board was in attendance and the financial report good considering the times.

The time-honored institution of Class Day, which has always come in as a relief from the otherwise solemn proceedings of Commencement, has been superseded during the past two years, by the somewhat similar celebration of Ivy Day, the reason being that the Junior Class, under whose auspices the exercises of Ivy Day take place, are generally in better condition for such a celebration than the hard-worked Seniors, upon whom Class Day imposed a heavy burden. The Ivy exercises took place on the College campus, at 3 P. M., the weather being cool and delightful.

The annual meeting of the Alumni took place this afternoon. There was a large attendance, the old board of officers were elected. No very important business was transacted.

The number of applicants for admission to the Freshman class is already 43.

Among the arrivals to-day are: Hon. J. S. Schultz, of New York; ex-Governor Coburn and Miss Annie Louise Cary.

An address was delivered at the Baptist church this evening by President A. H. Strong, D. D. of Rochester Theological Seminary, followed with a poem by Rev. S. D. Phelps, D. D., of Hartford Ct. The edifice was filled to overflowing.

District Court to take appropriate action on the death of Judge Shepley in Portland, Judge Hoar presided and made a eulogistic address, as did Hon. R. B. Dana, Jr. A Committee of seven was appointed to attend the funeral to-morrow, and a committee was also appointed to draft resolutions to the court at the opening of next term.

Pall Bearers.

The pall bearers at Judge Shepley's funeral will be Judges Clifford, Fox, Colt and Lowell of the United State's Court, Hons. W. L. Putnam, Bion Bradbury, Nathan Webb, Israel Washburn, W. W. Thomas, Geo. E. B. Jackson, H. N. Jose and Dr. G. F. French. The Grand Army will send as honorary pall bearers Generals James D. and Frank Fessenden, John Marshall Brown and C. P. Mattocks, Hon. Thomas B. Reed, Colonels T. A. Roberts and Starbird and Major Charles Walker.

The following Comrades were selected to attend the funeral of General Shepley, at Portland, to-morrow: Gen. F. S. Nickerson, Gen. M. B. Lakeman, Gen. G. M. Atwood, H. C. White, M. D., and Lieut. S. C. Small.

DROWNED.

GLOUCESTER, Mass., July 23. The schooner Fleetwing arrived this morning, bringing George L. Carpenter, Herman Carpenter and Sylvester Abbott, taken from the bottom of a sail boat off the Isle of Shoals about five o'clock yesterday afternoon. The rescued men with another named Alonzo Garvin, sailed from South Berwick, Me., yesterday in the sloop yacht Fearnaught on a fishing excursion, and were struck by a squall and capsized. Garvin was drowned, but the others clung to the boat for three hours, and for half an hour holding the body of their unfortunate companion, but were obliged to abandon it to the waves at last. The steamer Appledore passed near them, but they were unable to attract her attention. The men were greatly exhausted when taken off. They left for home by the morning train. Garvin was 35 years of age, and leaves a widow and two children.

The Boston Belting Co.

TAPPAN'S IRREGULARITIES.

THE AMOUNT $970,000.

Meeting of the Investigating Committee.

BOSTON, July 23. A meeting of the Committee to investigate the affairs of the suspended Boston Belting Company was held this afternoon. Much of the time was spent in ascertaining the condition of McKillop & Sprague & Co., as upon the solvency of that concern depends much of the value of the assets turned over by Tappan to secure the Belting Company. It appears that Mr. Tappan was the "Co." of McKillop & Sprague, for out of a capital stock of $500,000 stock, he owned $425,000.

Durant President of the Belting Co., says it will take several days to get at the true condition of their affairs and when they do a report will be made and a settlement in a prompt and satisfactory manner. It is now estimated that the amount of Tappan's investments represented by notes of the Belting Co., reach $970,000.

POTTER'S COMMITTEE.

At Atlantic City.

ATLANTIC, July 23. Messrs. Potter and Springer reached here this forenoon making with Butler and Hiscock who previously arrived, four members. The only witnesses here now are Secretary Sherman and Representatives Kelley and Danforth.

In Session.

ATLANTIC CITY, July 23. The Potter Committee, consisting of Representatives Potter, Butler, Hiscock and Springer met this afternoon at 5 o'clock in one of the parlors of the United States Hotel. There were present ex-Senator Trumbull and Representatives Kelley and Danford, and of the counsel Messrs. Shellabarger and J. R. Sypher, together with a large number of guests of the hotel, of both sexes and representatives of the press.

Representative Danford was the first witness called at the instance of Representative Hiscock. Danford testified that he is a member of the present and was a member of the preceding Congress, his residence being St. Clairsville, Ohio; was a member of the Morrison Committee that visited New Orleans, and there met James E. Anderson whom he had known as a Washington correspondent of a newspaper in his district. He had a full conversation with Anderson about East Feliciana. It was voluntary on the part of Anderson who also spoke generally of the parish, and of its being the worst bull-dozed parish of the State, and said that while travelling from some point to the parish seat on a dark night he was fired at, his clothes being shot through, and that he escape by reason of the darkness.

After leaving the parish seat he went to New Orleans. He said some army officers doubted the truth of the story about the attack. He also spoke of having made a protest on which the vote of East Feliciana was thrown out. He spoke of having put in circulation, during the period of registration, when he came to New Orleans and informed the Republican Committee including Governor Kellogg, that the parish was going Democratic, the colored vote being largely on that side, and that he had been advised by Kellogg and the Republican Committee that he should either not return the parish at all or come away and make such a protest as would throw the Parish out. He said he had put the story in circulation in the hope that the Democratic Committee would make him an offer of money and when he had them good and fast he would expose the authors and blow them sky high. Witness did not hear Mr. Anderson question the truth of the protest nor complain that there had been an interpolation.

Potter asked witness whether he did not wonder how Anderson, whom he had known as a newspaper correspondent at Washington, could so soon become a supervisor of elections in Louisiana? To which the witness replied, he had known Anderson as a correspondent of a New Orleans paper, and did not know but he was a citizen of Louisiana. Witness thought Anderson said the vote of the Parish was thrown out on his protest. Adjourned till 10.30 A. M. to-morrow.

Mr. Potter contradicts the statement of a special from Washington published in the Philadelphia Telegraph either that the Committee have agreed to make a preliminary report before the fall elections or that he has any statement whatever as to the case expected to be proved or the effect of the action of the Electoral Commission.

Hon. Eugene Hale arrived this evening to appear before the Potter Committee.

into Bosnia is to begin July 28th. The army consists of 70,000 men and 240 guns. It is to leave in three columns in the broad highway to Serajeva from Novi to Banjaluka and from Metkowich to Mostar. It comprises the 6th, 20th, 7th, 18th and 28th divisions of the army numbering in all 18 regiments of infantry, 10 battalions of riflemen, 1 regiment of dragoons, 1 regiment of Hussars, 5 battalions of pioneers and 24 battalions of artillery.

The Italian Agitators.

Vienna specials state that the Government has received assurances from Rome that the Italian Cabinet is perfectly united in disapproval of the agitation in Italy and Austria. They say that the agitators have seized upon the treaty of Berlin merely as a pretext, and their real object is merely to make republican capital against the Italian monarchy, and while it is thought best to permit the agitators, who are in fact revolutionists, to express themselves freely, the Italian Government will take care to preserve order, and to prevent even an attempt at armed demonstrations against Austria.

"Italia Irredenta"—"Viva, Trieste."

ROME, July 23. Telegrams from Genoa, Salerno, Turin and other cities in Italy describe the meetings Sunday in favor of "Italia Irridenta" as attended by large enthusiastic audiences. Resolutions were passed of the same character as those passed at Naples and at Palermo. The proceedings were conducted with perfect order. Demonstrations also made in Goldoni theatre at Ancona, at Arena, Brunetti, in Balogni and in the Streets of Naples, cries being raised of "Viva Trieste" and "Viva Trevio". Meetings will be held at Melan, Como, Sankemo and Venice Sunday. Through precautions by the authorities and firm yet conciliatory action of the police, the demonstrations Sunday night before Venetian palace where the Austrian Ambassador to the Holy See resides, and before Chighi palace, the residence of the Austrian Ambassador to Italy, were confined to shouts of liberation for Trieste and Trentene also simultaneously with the first manifestation some companies of the line and of Bersaglier took possession of approaches of both places, and the police dispersed those who gathered in front.

The band musicians on the plazas were obliged to play the "Garibaldi Hymn" several times, in answer to the demand of the crowd. The demonstration finally ended by a band of young men parading the streets singing patriotic songs and shouting "Abasso Corti," and "Vive La Guerra." The moderate Liberals attribute the demonstration to ultramontane influence. The Libreta observes, that the attempted demonstration did not have the results hoped for by its impudent fanatic promoters, in consequence of the calm and dignified attitude of the population. La Capital regrets the demonstration, which, it fears, was organized either by some doubtful individuals or by agents of parties desirous of stirring up agitation in Italy.

The Diritto ministerial organ also mentions the necessity of preserving intact the right of public meetings, but states that the government is firmly resolved to resent any demonstrations that disturb the public order.

Trouble Anticipated.

VIENNA, July 23. The Austrian authorities expect considerable trouble in Herzegovinia and Bosnia, and are even prepared to encounter armed resistance similar to the Rhodope insurrection. Arrangements have been made for the advance of strong reinforcements to the frontier and the neighboring garrison towns. The Turks display a very unyielding disposition in the negotiations about occupation.

Occupation of Bosnia.

VIENNA, July 23. Intelligence is received from Brac on the Bosnian frontier that a detachment of Austrians crossed the river Sao Saturday to prepare for the construction of a bridge. They were well received by the Turks and local authorities.

Archduke John Salvator of Tuscany has been appointed to the command of a division of the army of occupation. This appointment is believed to have some connection with future administration arrangements.

GREAT BRITAIN.

The Roman Catholic Church.

ROME, July 23. It is stated the Vatican contemplates removing the Roman Catholic Churches in England, Ireland, and Scotland from the control of the Propaganda Fide and placing them under the immediate authority of the Pope. This measure is attributed in clerical circles to induce the British Government to establish relations with the Vatican.

Up to this time there has not been a man drowned, or injured in any manner, which is more fortunate than the drive has usually been in years past, and notwithstanding the extreme low water and strong head winds that have prevailed nearly all the time on all of the lakes, Captain Smart has made good time and a successful drive.

THE WATERVILLE CONCERT. Miss Annie Louise Cary arrived at Waterville on the train yesterday afternoon, and will participate in the concert at that place this evening, given under the auspices of the graduating class at Colby University. They have also secured the services of the Germania Band of Boston, and the concert will certainly be a very brilliant affair. We understand that quite a number of our citizens contemplate going to Waterville to-day in order to attend the concert.

PISCATAQUIS SAVINGS BANK. At the request of Hon. W. W. Bolster, Bank Examiner, and the Trustees of the Piscataquis Savings Bank at Dover, Messrs. E. J. Hale and D. R. Straw, with the above gentleman, examined the books, accounts, and securities of the Bank. They report that they find no large loans, and a very few securities that are not ample for the loan; and that those few securities are being so managed that there will be very little, if any loss to the bank. They also report the liabilities of the Bank at $70,375.71; and that the assets show a surplus of $4,114.25 over and above all liabilities. Mr. Bolster also makes the following statement in relation to the standing of the Bank: "I can assure the depositors that they need have no fear for the safety of their deposits; that with a reasonable time to turn the assets into money the institution can pay dollar for dollar with usual dividends."

THAT BOGUS FIRM. Not long since we published an item in relation to a bogus firm, who under the name of J. T. Appleton & Co., tried their little swindling game in this city. We find the following in relation to the same concern in the Portland Advertiser:

It appears that the agent of the bogus firm of J. T. Appleton & Co., in going through the State soliciting consignments, when asked to name Portland references, gave fictitious names. For example, he referred to W. S. Deering of this city.—Letters addressed to W. S. Deering were received by the other member of the firm, and an answer immediately went back, stating that the firm of J. T. Appleton was good and reliable. The villainy of this concern was ascertained by Mr. Smith, of the firm of Smith, Gage & Co. A large amount of goods for J. T. Appleton & Co. has arrived at the different freight depots, and on the Bangor boat. The Marshal has directed all goods found so directed to be returned.

EXCURSIONS. About two hundred persons went down river yesterday on the annual excursion of the Essex Street Society. They left the wharf at eight o'clock, and arrived at Northport at about noon, where they took dinner. A large number of the excursionists then embarked on the tug for Gilkey's Harbor. They went to the southern end of Long Island, going down the west side, and up on the east to Islesboro, where they landed. The magnificent scenery on the western side of the island excited the admiration of all. After spending about an hour at Islesboro they started for Northport running into a light shower on the way up. They joined the rest of the party at Northport, and then proceeding homeward arriving here at about ten o'clock. The occasion was greatly enjoyed by all of the party.——The Bangor Reform Club made an excursion yesterday to Eagle Island on the steamer May Field. Although the party was not large it was a pleasant one, and the trip afforded enjoyment for all. On their return they arrived here between nine and ten o'clock.

SHOOTING ACCIDENT. A short time since John W. Robinson Jr. and M. H. Gorham started up river on a hunting and fishing expedition. At Moosehead Lake they purchased a canoe and then began to work their way homeward. On Saturday afternoon while paddling down Webster Lake they discovered a large bear swimming across the lake, and started after him. Robinson was on his knees in the bow of the canoe and Gorham in the stern. They had a repeating rifle fastened to the side of the canoe, with the muzzle pointing toward the bow, and Gorham, thinking that the bear was about to escape, attempted draw the rifle toward him, when it was discharged, the ball striking Robinson in the fleshy part of the left leg. Gorham did not know that the ball struck him, and fired three shots at the bear, when Robinson exclaimed, "I am shot!" Gorham paddled the canoe to the shore and on examining the injured leg, found that the ball had struck the bone and then passed around to the other side of the leg. He removed the ball with his pocket knife and bandaged the wound, and then started for Trout Brook Farm, on the East Branch. The journey was accomplished with great difficulty as Gorham was obliged to carry or assist his friend a short distance, and then return for the canoe. On reaching the farm they rode on horseback to Patten, a distance of twenty-six miles, and then took the stage for Mattawamkeag. At the latter place they took the cars, arriving here on the St. John train last evening. It was a hard journey, but Robinson is doing as well as could be expected.

THE STEAMER CAMBRIDGE. We find the following in Monday's Boston Traveller:

More than one thousand passengers embarked on the Sanford steamer Cambridge, yesterday, for an excursion to Portsmouth, and notwithstanding the intricacies of the passage up the river and the great difficulties in the way of landing such a crowd, nobody was injured, and there were no casualties beyond the loss of a few hats, which were blown off during the storm on the return trip. The Cambridge is an excellent sea-boat, not so large as some of the excursion vessels, but staunch and eminently safe, and in the hands of Capt. Otis M. Ingraham, she is managed in a masterly manner. Yesterday's excursion was delightful. Going down, the steamer passed closely to the shores of Cape Ann, Manchester, Eastern Point, and Thatcher's Island being plainly seen, and then the vessel took a direct course, by the Isle of Shoals, to Portsmouth, where passengers were permitted to disembark and ramble about that ancient city for an hour. Returning, the fog shut out land after leaving Whaleback; and the storm was encountered when the boat was half way across from White Island to the Cape. The steamer plunged and rolled, but behaved admirably, little time being lost, and reached her dock at 10 P. M. It is intimated that the steamer will make her next Sunday excursion to Rockport, but no decision has been arrived at in this particular. In this connection it may not be out of place to call attention to the excellence with which the steward's department of the Cambridge is managed by Mr. Frank Dwinel. The abuses in this regard on the Sanford line used to be a subject of much ill natured and not altogether unjust comment; but now since Mr. Dwinel assumed control, meals are served on the European plan, and at really lower prices than in first class restaurants on shore. An excellent sirloin steak with all the "fixings," cost only half a dollar, and there are other prices in proportion. The utmost care is taken by the management of this line to ensure not only the safety, but the comfort and pleasure of its patrons.

COMMENCEMENT AT COLBY.

(REPORTED FOR THE WHIG AND COURIER.)

WATERVILLE, July 23d, 1878.

The exercises of Sunday evening was the annual sermon before the Boardman Missionary Society and the Young Men's Christian Association. Rev. Dr. Hovey, President of Newton Theological Seminary was the preacher. This text was "Freely give." He considered the duty of Christian beneficence; made two divisions. First the Nature of giving; second, The duty. It was a most admirable presentation of a most important practical subject. Dr. Hovey is one of the strongest men in his denomination, and is always listened to with marked attention.

THE WHIG & COURIER of Tuesday gave the programme of the Junior prize declamation at the Baptist church on Monday evening. The character of this exercise was fully up to former similar occasions. Andrews Orchestra, of Bangor, furnished the music and they received the warmest commendations for their really fine music. They certainly excelled anything that has been furnished here, on like occasions, for years.

The Board of Trustees met on Tuesday at one o'clock. Hon. Abner Coburn, the President was in the chair. A large majority of the Trustees was present, among them Hon. H. Hamlin, Hon. Seth Milliken, Rev. Dr's. Champlin, Bosworth, Shailer and Sheldon, and Moses Giddings, Esq., The report of the Treasurer shows the assets of the University, beside real estate, amount to over $500,000. The finances of the University seem to be in a most satisfactory condition.

The Society of the Alumni met in Memorial Hall at two o'clock Tuesday afternoon, President, General R. B. Shepherd, Vice President Prof. W. H. Lambert; Necrologist, Prof. C. E. Hamlin; Secretary and Treasurer, Prof. E. W. Hall.

The necrology of the year gave the following names of alumni deceased during the year, namely: Rev. Thomas W. Merrill, of the class of 1825, who died at Lansing, Mich., at the age of 77; Rev. N. Medbury, class of '38, died at Dover, N. H., May 30th, aged 73; Asa Mathews, Esq. class of '39, died at Newport, Nov., 1877, aged 73; Wm. S. Green, Esq., class of '40, died in Springfield, Mass., aged 50; Rev. Frank W. Tolman, class of '60, died in South Hampton, N. H., aged 35; Geo. L. Farnum, Esq., class of '70, died at Rumford Center, aged 33. The notices of these men were very full, and great credit is due Prof. Hamlin for his painstaking in preparing these obituaries.

The exercises of "Ivy-Day," at 3 o'clock, Tuesday afternoon, brought out a large and brilliant company. The exercises were at the north end of Memorial Hall. The following was the Decisions in Law.

The following decisions have been received by James H. Burgess, Esq., Clerk of the Eastern Law District:

AROOSTOOK COUNTY CASE.

Caleb Chase & als vs. Charles F. Collins & al. Exceptions overruled.

Rescript. One of the conditions of a poor debtor's bond was, that the debtor would take the oath prescribed in the 28th section of chapter 113 of the Revised Statutes, but no oath was prescribed by that section.—Held, that the bond was not a statute bond and that evidence was not admissible to show how the reference to a wrong section happened.

PENOBSCOT COUNTY CASE.

Inhabitants of Hampden vs. City of Bangor. Judgment for defendants.

Rescript. Acts of kindness or charity, or aid furnished as a gift or loan, do not constitute supplies within the pauper act.—When the person furnishing and the person receiving aid understands the aid to be a mere act of neighborly kindness, the subsequent voluntary payment by the town of what was never a charge against it, will not make the aid thus furnished to be supplies within the pauper act.

HANCOCK COUNTY CASE.

Sereno Jellison vs. Luther Jordan. Exceptions overruled.

Rescript. A contract for the conveyance of real estate, not in writing, is void by the statute of Frauds. When a party to such contract has complied, with its conditions and made all the payments required by its terms, he is entitled to recover back such payments, in case the other party refuses to perform on his part. Nor will it defeat his right of recovery that he is in possession of the premises agreed to be conveyed.

WALDO COUNTY CASE.

James E. Oxton vs. Daniel W. Graves. Judgment for the defendant.

Rescript. When the line runs "to the road and thence by the road," the grant is to the centre of the road, even though the measurement of distances would extend only to the side of the road.

READ IT!

Good May Come From It.

It is a common complaint among the people of this age, that they are suffering from an unhealthy condition of system, which is not, however, actual disease. If you ask them to explain what they mean, they will usually say that they are not so strong as they used to be, that their vital energies are relaxed, and they have not that power of enduring hard toil and fatigue which they formerly possessed. No mystery surrounds the origin of such a condition as this, and, although the patients themselves may be content to sum up their feelings as those of "general debility," a keen observer will at once tell them they are rapidly approaching disease of a most serious form. Almost always, in such cases, the blood, in which the most valuable essence of life is concentrated, is in a very poverty-stricken condition, which manifests itself by a feeling of constant languor (worse in the morning than at any other time), nervousness, tenderness of the muscles, loss of appetite, and a general disordered state of the bowels. Usually, also, the liver is at fault, and no longer performing its natural office of affording free evacuations, and carrying off the bile and the impurities that contaminate the blood. In very many cases the kidneys are sluggish in their action; and, unless something be done to set matters aright, Bright's disease or diabetes may be the direct issue, with death following on soon afterwards. Such feelings as these are not to be considered of trifling importance; for it is no secret with the medical profession, that general debility is but a vague popular term, which has a very significant meaning, viz., the beginning of disease. There are many indicators, and organic irregularities of a small nature which will beget it; and these are apt too often to be entirely overlooked, until the real danger manifests itself. But is it not the height of foolishness to be so careless of one's safety? And who will say that it is not the better way to check disease at its beginning, and thus avoid all its peril and discomfort which the developed stage of disease must invariably occasion? If you are deaf to such common-sense reasoning as this, then reflect for a moment on the sad experience of thousands of chronic invalids, or the mute testimony of the multitude of untimely graves that never give their [illegible].

We speak with no rash or dishonest intentions in saying that Vegetine will relieve the worst symptoms of general debility, and prevent disease. Torpidity of the liver or bowels, indigestive symptoms and their attendant, inactivity of the kidneys and the bladder, poverty of the blood, and a host of other signs of local disorder, are soon overcome by this medicinal remedy, the timely use of which fortifies the system against malaria, and renders impossible the crowd of dire consequences originating solely in a want of physical or constitutional vigor, as in the incomplete performance of the functions upon which health unquestionably depends. Thousands will bear testimony (and do it voluntarily) that Vegetine is the best medical compound yet placed before the public for renovating and purifying the blood, eradicating all humors, impurities, or poisonous secretion from the system, invigorating and strengthening the system debilitated by disease; in fact, it is, as many have called it, "The Great Health Restorer."
